Mrs. Payne Whitney Has Costume Dance for Her Daughter

Girls Home From School Chief
Guests—Friday Juniors
Meet.

Mrs. Payne Whitney gave a "small and early" dance last night at her home, 972 Fifth Avenue, for her daughter, Miss Joan Whitney, and several of her young friends who are home from school for the holidays. They went to the dance in fancy dress. Before midnight a supper was served. In the party were girls who will not be introduced to society for several years.

There was a meeting of the subscription dance, known as the Friday Juniors, last night in the Plaza Hotel. The series was organized by Miss Georgiana Harman Owen for girls and young men from preparatory schools and colleges.

Among the patronesses were Misses Donna Barber, William S. Brown, Charles H. Van Rensselaer, Howard Davidson, G. Trowbridge Hollister, Oliver Harman, William H. Hoodin, William H. Wadhams, Sheppard Gandy Schermer, J. Morgan Post, Cleveland H. Moffett and Percy Hamilton Stewart.

Another dance at the Plaza last night was given by Mrs. Cipriano Andrade for girls who will not be introduced to society for two years.

The second for this season of the Senior Dances, formerly known as the Thursday Seniors, will be held next Friday night in the ballroom of the Plaza Hotel.

Among the members of the committee for this dance are Mrs. J. Horton Hams, Mrs. J. Couper Lord, Mrs. Bradshaw Johnson Carroll, Jr., Mrs. Irving H. Pardee, Mrs. Leonard J. Wyeth, Mrs. Henry Morgan Post, Mrs. Edmund Herick and Mrs. Richard S. Emmet. The subscribers are principally young married persons.

The Easter Colony Dance will be held next Friday night in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton and it will be the last for this season of these dances, which formerly were held in the Colony Club.

The patronesses are Misses Winthrop Burr, Oliver G. Jennings, H. Casimir de Rham, Walter B. James, Robert L. Stevens and John Magee Ellsworth.

Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson will give a small dance next Saturday night at her home, 983 Park Avenue, for her daughter, Miss Geraldine Thompson, and some of her young friends who are home for the Easter holidays.

ASKS FOR ADDRESS OF SANTA CLAUS
Laura V. O'Hanlon Writes as Mother Did 23 Years Ago.

Any reader of THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD who may happen to have the present address of that gay old gadabout, Santa Claus, will confer a distinct favor upon this newspaper by writing, telegraphing or, even better, phoning the same. It was around the office recently, but the office cat ate it or something; anyway, it is for the moment inaccessible, and a chain has arisen which demands it at once.

Laura Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas, daughter of this Sun's Virginia, wants it at once, and the wishes of this young lady are to be ignored lightly.

Everybody remembers THE SUN'S Virginia, that little girl who wrote to the editor over so many years ago, back in 1897, it was asking for the truth about Santa Claus, and to quiet any doubts of her own, but to tell certain small friends infected with the cynicism of the age, and everybody remembers the wonderful editorial, which became a part of the real literature of America, that answered her.

"No Santa Claus? Thank God! he lives, and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

That little Virginia grew up in the faith, and in the course of time was married and brought another Virginia into the world, the Laura Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas at the present writing, and it is this important young lady who desires immediate news of the whereabouts of our old friend Santa.

She had a birthday party yesterday, her sixth, and although there were eight guests of her generation at table and all sorts of good things provided by grandfather Dr. Philip F. O'Hanlon, Laura Virginia was grieved that Santa Claus didn't put in an appearance.

"I just can't understand it. Santa Claus has been a most intimate friend of mother and of the whole O'Hanlon family for years and years, and here I have a birthday party and not a word from him."

"Well, Laura Virginia," said the doctor, a little puzzled, "you had better write to THE SUN about this matter. If anybody has his address THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD will be sure to have it."

So this letter came in the mail: "Mr. Editor: Please send me Santa Claus's address this minute. Honest, truly, I don't want to ask him for anything. I want to do something for him, because he has been so nice to me and my family. I've got a piece of birthday cake for him if he will call at 121 West Ninety-fifth street and ask for me, Laura Virginia Douglas. Tell him to be sure and ask for me."

To Be Bride of J. McK. Minton, Jr.
In Spartanburg, S. C., to-morrow Mr. John McK. Minton, Jr., of 226 West Seventieth street and Miss Alice Carson of that city will be married.

Mr. Minton was graduated from the University of Virginia. He joined the force of District Attorney Jerome in 1911 and continued a member of the prosecuting staff of the county under District Attorneys Whitman, Perkins and Swann.

Mr. Minton resigned his post in Mr. Swann's office in 1917 to join the law firm of Edwards & Murphy. Miss Carson also is a lawyer.

FRANCE'S FIRST LADY OPENS Y.W.C.A. DRIVE
500 Women at Initial Luncheon at Commodore.

Mme. Deschanel, wife of the President of the French Republic, sent a telegram which was read yesterday at the opening of the drive for $1,500,000 for the Y. W. C. A. The message said:

"Am happy to express great gratitude of French people for generous and efficient service by your association. This service toward my countrymen during the war and since cannot be sufficiently appreciated and touches my heart deeply."

More than 500 women attended the luncheon at the Commodore Hotel, where the programme for the week's drive was outlined. The teams and their captains will meet there daily for luncheon during the week to report the drive's progress.

One of the largest groups is of business and professional women, of which Mrs. Nina B. Price, national vice-president of the New York League of Business and Professional Women, is executive secretary. There are more than 1,500 in this group and the teams have undertaken to reach all business and professional women in the city by March 20, when the drive ends.

Mrs. William Follmer Morgan, chairman of the campaign executive committee, presided at the luncheon. The speakers were Miss Harriet Taylor, Miss Ella Schooley and Alfred E. Marling, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

The organization's film showing the outdoor recreation camp near Bear Mountain will be featured during the week at the Capitol Theatre.

Mr. Iselin Finds Way to Return a Favor

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 20.—An amusing story is going the rounds of the colony concerning a gift made by Mr. C. Oliver Iselin of New York to J. J. Roach, manager of the local Bell Telephone office.

Having an order for a desk telephone filled promptly, Mr. Iselin called in person and thanked the manager and in the afternoon sent him two boxes of cigars. The manager never smoked a cigar in his life. Not wishing to inconvenience Mr. Iselin by revealing the truth, but still wishing to have the benefit of them, he called at the Aiken Club to sell the cigars to the porter, Johnson.

"Yes," said Johnson, "we will take the cigars, as they are scarce. Just wait one minute until I speak to Mr. Iselin, who buys for the club."

Mr. Iselin saw Mr. Roach's predicament and sent him a set of gold shirt studs and cuff buttons. Accompanying them was a note, reading: "I am sure, my dear Mr. Roach, that you wear shirts."
